About ONCB[®]

The Orthopaedic Nurses Certification Board (ONCB[®]) was established in 1986 to promote the highest standards of orthopaedic nursing practice through the development, implementation and coordination of all aspects of certification for orthopaedic nurses. The ONC[®] examination is accredited by the Accreditation Board for Specialty Nursing Certification.

ONCB[®] is a member of the American Board of Nursing Specialties (ABNS). ABNS is an advocate for consumer protection by establishing and maintaining standards for professional specialty nursing certification.

Mission Statement

ONCB[®] improves musculoskeletal health by providing orthopaedic nurses with certifications that promote their professional development and advance the practice of orthopaedic nursing.

Certification granted by the ONCB[®] is pursuant to a voluntary procedure intended solely to test for special knowledge. The ONCB[®] does not purport to license, to confer a right or privilege upon, nor otherwise to define the qualifications of any person for nursing practice. The significance of certification in any jurisdiction or institution is the responsibility of the candidate to determine. The candidate should contact the appropriate state Board of Nursing or institution for clarification.

Independent Testing Agency

ONCB[®] has contracted with Applied Measurement Professionals, Inc. (AMP) to assist in the development, administration, scoring and analysis of the ONCB[®] certification examinations. AMP, located in the greater Kansas City area, is a leading provider of licensing and certification examinations for professional organizations.

Nondiscrimination Policy

ONCB[®] and AMP do not discriminate among candidates on the basis of race, color, creed, gender, religion, national origin, disability or marital status.

- You fail to report for an examination appointment.

A complete application form and examination fee are required to re-register for the examination.

Inclement Weather, Power Failure or Emergency

In the event of inclement weather or unforeseen emergencies on the day of an examination, AMP will determine whether circumstances warrant the cancellation, and subsequent rescheduling, of an examination. The examination will usually not be rescheduled if the Assessment Center personnel are able to open the Assessment Center.

You may visit AMP's website at www.goAMP.com prior to the examination to determine if AMP has been advised that any Assessment Centers are closed. Every attempt is made to administer the examination as scheduled; however, should an examination be canceled at an Assessment Center, all scheduled candidates will receive notification following the examination regarding rescheduling or reapplication procedures.

If power to an Assessment Center is temporarily interrupted during an administration, your examination will be restarted where you left off and you may continue the examination. The responses provided up to the point of interruption will be intact, but for security reasons the questions will be scrambled.

You will take your photograph which will remain on screen throughout your examination session. This photograph will also print on your score report.

Practice Examination

Prior to attempting the examination, you will be given the opportunity to practice taking an examination on the computer. The time you use for this practice examination is NOT counted as part of your examination time or score. When you are comfortable with the computer testing process, you may quit the practice session and begin the timed examination.

Timed Examination

Following the practice examination, you will begin the timed examination. Before beginning, instructions for taking the examination are provided on-screen.

The computer monitors the time you spend on the examination. The examination will terminate if you exceed the time allowed. You may click on the "Time" box in the lower right portion of the screen to monitor your time. A digital clock indicates the time remaining for you to complete the examination. The Time feature may be turned off during the examination.

Only one examination question is presented at a time. The question number appears in the lower right portion of the screen. Choices of answers to the examination question are identified as A, B, C, or D. You must indicate your choice by either typing in the letter in the response box in the lower left portion of the computer screen or clicking in the option using the mouse. To change your answer, enter a different option by pressing the A, B, C, or D key or by clicking on the option using the mouse. You may change your answer as many times as you wish during the examination time limit.

To move to the next question, click on the forward arrow (>) in the lower right portion of the screen. This action will move you forward through the examination question by question. If you wish to review any question or questions, click the backward arrow (<) or use the left arrow key to move backward through the examination.

An examination question may be left unanswered for return later in the examination session. Questions may also be bookmarked for later review by clicking in the blank square to the right of the Time button. Click on the hand icon to advance to the next unanswered or bookmarked question on the examination. To identify all unanswered and bookmarked questions, repeatedly click on the hand icon. When the examination is completed, the number of examination questions answered is reported. If not all questions have been answered and there is time remaining, return to the examination and answer those questions. Be sure to provide an answer for each examination question before ending the examination. There is no penalty for guessing.

Candidate Comments

During the examination, comments may be provided for any question by clicking on the button displaying an exclamation point (!) to the left of the Time button. This opens a dialogue box where comments may be entered. Comments will be reviewed, but individual responses will not be provided.

Sample Questions for the ONC[®] Examination

1. A 79-year-old patient with osteoporosis should be encouraged to engage in which of the following exercises?
- sit-ups
 - toe-touching
 - walking
 - bowling

Key: C

Rationale: Walking as a weight-bearing exercise is one of the easiest and most beneficial forms of exercise for bone health. It can be tolerated by most age categories. The other activities allow twisting of the spine that can be dangerous for an individual with osteoporosis.

Geier, K.A. (2007). Metabolic bone conditions. In National Association of Orthopaedic Nurses. Core Curriculum for Orthopaedic Nursing (6th ed.) (pp. 373-394). Boston: Pearson Custom Publishing.

2. A 58-year-old male is diagnosed with acute gout. The nurse is likely to note which of the following when taking his vital signs?
- hypertensive crisis
 - bradycardia
 - tachypnea
 - elevated temperature

Key: D

Rationale: The patient may develop a low-grade fever due to the inflammatory process. The other findings are not problems that result from acute gout.

Roberts, D. (2007). Arthritis and connective tissue disease. In National Association of Orthopaedic Nurses. Core Curriculum for Orthopaedic Nursing (6th ed.) (pp. 327-370). Boston: Pearson Custom Publishing.

3. Which of the following drugs are CONTRAINDICATED in patients with myasthenia gravis (MG)?
- anticholinergics
 - antidysrhythmics
 - immunosuppressants
 - corticosteroids

Key: B

Rationale: Antidysrhythmics are among the drugs that are contraindicated or used cautiously in patients with MG. The other drugs are commonly used for treatment of the disease.

4. An infant with developmental dysplasia of the hip (DDH) is also at risk for which of these congenital defects?
- polydactyly
 - foot deformities
 - spine deformities
 - arachnodactyly

Key: B

Rationale: The presence of other anomalies, especially torticollis and clubfoot, is associated with an increased incidence of developmental dysplasia.

Online Practice Modules Available

Self-assessment modules with additional sample questions are available for the ONC[®] examination through the AMP website (www.goAMP.com – “Candidates” – “Order Practice Tests” under ONCB[®] content). Assuming they are not completed and submitted, these modules are accessible for 30 days for a cost of $35 each. One general module with sample questions from all examination content areas is available, and other modules have specific content from the examination outline (e.g., metabolic & inflammatory diseases/tumors; OR/peds/neuromuscular, congenital). These modules reflect the testing environment to help candidates with anxiety related to computer testing. They also provide an excellent sample of the style of questions appearing on the certification examination. Please note that completion of the self-assessment modules is not required for testing and does not guarantee success on the examination. However, they do represent another aide in assessing areas for additional study.

Following the Examination

After completing the examination, you are asked to complete a short evaluation of your examination experience. Then, you are instructed to report to the examination proctor to receive your score report. Scores are reported in printed form only, in person or by U.S. mail. Scores are not reported over the telephone, by electronic mail or by facsimile.

Candidates will receive a score report indicating “pass” or “fail.” Your pass/fail status is determined by your raw score. Additional detail is provided in the form of raw scores by major content category. A raw score is the number of questions you answered correctly.

Pass/Fail Score Determination

The methodology used to set the minimum passing score is the Angoff method, applied during the performance of a Passing Point Study by a panel of experts in the field. The experts evaluated each question on the examination to determine how many correct answers are necessary to demonstrate the knowledge and skills required to pass this examination portion. Your ability to pass the examination depends on the knowledge and skill you display, not on the performance of other candidates.

Passing scores may vary slightly for each version of the examination. To ensure fairness to all candidates, a process of statistical equating is used. This involves selecting an appropriate mix of individual questions for each version of the examination that meet the content distribution requirements of the examination content blueprint. Because each question has been pretested, a difficulty level can be assigned. The process then considers the difficulty level of each question selected for each version of the examination, attempting to match the difficulty level of each version as closely as possible. To assure fairness, slight variations in difficulty level are addressed by adjusting the passing score up or down, depending on the overall difficulty level statistics for the group of scored questions that appear on a particular version of the examination.

Scores Cancelled by the ONCB[®] or AMP

ONCB[®] and AMP are responsible for the validity and integrity of the scores they report. On occasion, occurrences, such as computer malfunction or misconduct by a candidate, may cause a score to be suspect. ONCB[®] and AMP reserve the right to void or withhold examination results if, upon investigation, violation of its regulations is discovered.

If You Pass the Examination

Each successful candidate will receive a pin and a certificate of attainment from ONCB[®] and will be able to use the designation “ONC[®]” or “ONP-C[®]” to indicate certification status. A certificate package will be mailed to you within three weeks of passing the examination. Names of successful candidates will be published in Orthopaedic Nursing, the official journal of the National Association of Orthopaedic Nurses and on the ONCB[®] website. Individuals who do not wish their names to be reported must contact the ONCB[®] directly to make this request. Certification is awarded for a period of 5 years contingent upon maintenance of a full and unrestricted license as an RN.

If You Do Not Pass the Examination

Any candidate who does not pass the examination will receive a report of the percentage of correct answers for each content area. The ONCB[®] does not limit the number of times a candidate may retake the certification examination. However, a candidate cannot retest for 90 days following the most recent examination date. The candidate is eligible for a $50 re-test discount with any future examination. However, the discount will only be awarded if the candidate registers using the results report provided on the day of the previous examination; the discount cannot be taken on electronic applications or applications from the Candidate Handbook.

Failing to Report for an Examination

If you fail to report for an examination, you will forfeit the registration and all fees paid to take the examination. A completed application form and examination fee are required to reapply for examination.

ONCB[®] Announces “Retest for Success” Program

ONCB[®] now offers special certification group discounts for hospitals that participate in this new program. By completing a “Retest for Success” program contract, nurse leaders can enroll groups of five or more RNs to take the ONC[®] or ONP-C[®] examination (mixed groups accepted). Any enrollee who fails the exam on the first attempt can re-test within 90 days without additional payment. ONCB[®] also offers a discount of more than 25% on online practice examinations for program participants. Finally, participating organizations can pursue volume pricing through NAON for other certification preparation materials. - Meeting stated eligibility requirements for initial certification, including the requirement for hours of nursing practice as a registered nurse or advanced practice nurse, as determined by the credential.
- Submitting completed application form for recertification and paying all applicable fees.

All certifications expire uniformly on the fifth occurrence of June 30 after the nurse has been certified for one year.
